

MERCHANT LEFT FORTUNE TO AIDES IN HIS OLD SHOP.

Each Employee Gets $50 for Every Year of Work Under Timothy G. Sellw.

There is happiness tempered with sorrow in the hearts of employees and relatives of Timothy G. Sellw, millionaire furniture manufacturer of No. 111 Fulton street and Upper Montclair, N. J., whose will, probated in Newark yesterday, announces bequests of over three-quarters of a million.

Every employee receives $50 for each year of service, and to-day some of the men who have worked for Mr. Sellw for years are rejoicing over the sudden windfall. The will, they say, is only in keeping with the life of the dead furniture man, whose secret donations to charity, while they can never be fully known, are enormous.

In all his dealing Timothy G. Sellw proved himself one of the few old-time business men. Back in 1879 Timothy G. Sellw, father of the dead millionaire, founded what is today the oldest furniture house in New York in exactly the same quarters it now occupies and built a manufacturing across the way at No. 61 Ann street. The place has changed but little. The furniture for sale is of course modern, but the ceilings of old fashioned plaster, the out of date lighting apparatus, dusty windows and leisurely employees bespeak the ease of half a century ago. However, with these methods of business Timothy G. Sellw was able to amass a fortune estimated at $3,000,000 and hold the respect and love of all his employees. While others fought for business, it sought him out, knowing the exactitude of his dealings and he prospered.

In the will filed yesterday $57,470 is given to friends and relatives, and employees. To charitable organizations Mr. Sellw bequeathed $104,000. The Presbyterian Church of Upper Montclair, which was built mainly by him, received $50,000 for additions and $10,000 for its upkeep. His widow gets the bulk of the fortune and $100,000 outright, besides the residue of the estate.

Eighteen years ago Edward S. Delamater came to work for Mr. Sellw. With Edward P. Francis he rose to a joint management of the firm and to share the millions left $5,000 in the business they had helped to make.

The Rev. Orville Reed, pastor of the Trinity Presbyterian Church, of Upper Montclair, was left $5,000. Many bequests ranging from $2,000 to $2,000 are made to relatives, friends, and servants. The three children of the Rev. F. B. Munson, two children of Ralph Sellw and two children of Joseph Sellw have trust funds of $20,000 apiece created under the will.

A provision of $150 a year was made for lodgings for Mrs. Turk. To his executor, Fred S. Sellw, Charles S. Phillips and Richard M. Martin, Mr. Sellw, in addition to the fees allowed by law, will leave $5,000 each.

PLAN CENSORSHIP OF DANCES OF THE "400."

Censorship of the society dances that take place at Sherry's and Delmonico's and other public places affected by the wealthier class is an essential part of the committee's program outlined yesterday at a meeting of the Committee on Amusement Resources of Working Girls at No. 31 Madison avenue.

The committee stands back of the License Bureau, which has the support of Mrs. Charles H. Isaacs and her associates. In the demand for a $70,000 increase in the budget. It is the object of the committee to secure an elastic list of inspectors, including both those under civil service requirements and those who are not. This is done to insure the getting of evidence by a person not recognized by the frequenters of a hall.

Plain Corset Talks TO WISE WOMEN

(No. 5)

What makes Nemo Corsets so much more comfortable than any other?

Skillful designing, for one thing. Nemo Corsets fit. Lastings Webbing and Lastings Cloth, for another. These, our own inventions, are the only elastic fabrics that don't "give out." They increase corset-comfort 100 per cent., and make comfortable long corsets possible. Used ONLY in Nemos.

There are imitations, of course; but if anyone tells you some other elastic is "just as good"—Be a Wise Woman!

Nemo

506 IN-CURVE BACK SELF-REDUCING

Picture Tells Story

You can see at a glance how the deep skirt-gore of elastic Lastings Cloth (two on each side), and the "In-Curve Back" of elastic Lastings Webbing (laced down to the end), give you figure-reduction greater than any other corset can produce.

Also, that when you sit down you will be easy and comfortable, and the corset won't "ride up."

Just try to match these corsets in any other make!

No. 506—low bust $5.00
No. 508—medium

REMEMBER, our elastic outwear the corset. None others do.
